

Pretrial Program

Features

Overview

ADR Systems is helping parties settle their disputes quickly – at a discounted rate – under our Pretrial Program. With ADR Systems' Pretrial Program, there is no waiting for courts to reopen. Parties can schedule a session immediately with a select group of experienced neutrals.

Case Qualifications

- Personal injury, Commercial or Family Law dispute
- Two or more parties
- The matter does not need to be in suit to participate

Fees

- $595 per party
- No administrative fee

Notable Parameters

- The fee covers up to two hours of the neutral's time
- The two hour time limit includes the neutral's review, session and follow-up, or post session time
- If the neutral's time goes beyond the two hour time limit, the parties will be billed for any additional time at the neutral's standard hourly rate
- Counsel should submit concise submissions to reduce neutral review time
- Sessions are conducted using ADR Systems remote options, including Zoom, CourtCall or teleconference
- Parties may also agree to turn the session into a binding process with high-low parameters
- No minimum number of cases required to participate

Pretrial Program

Benefits

Cost-Effective Program

ADR Systems' Pretrial Program offers a lower rate for qualified cases. This discounted rate allows parties to try to settle their case with very little financial risk.

Experienced Neutrals

Our seasoned neutrals have successfully settled many different types of cases and are highly skilled at resolving cases quickly.

Select neutrals are available for the program. To request a Pretrial Program neutral list, please contact ADR Systems.

Efficient Process

Our experienced case managers will administer every aspect of your case to keep it moving forward. With the courts closed, ADR Systems' Pretrial Program offers a solution now.

Custom Designed

Our services are tailored to fit the needs of your client and their particular matter. An experienced case manager will help you design a process and select the neutral most suitable for your case.

Administrative Support

ADR Systems will administer all aspects of your session. We contact opposing counsel, coordinate scheduling and work with both parties to ensure a seamless process.
